Graduating Class Play Will Provoke Mirth.

With a vampire angling for him, a stenographer really in love with him, and fancying himself really in love with a mad-cap laughing tom-boy—what is a man to do?

Come to see "A Single Man" and see the clever way in which Arthur Darnell as Robin Worthington, the author, extricates himself from such a complicated situation.

From Isabella Worthington who has a distinctly new and original version of baby-talk to Maggie Cottrell who bubbles over with fun and mischief, the characters are varied and unusual. Sweet, shy Miss Heseltine, the secretary whose sensibilities are shocked by the frankness of Maggie, and Louise Parker, the siren, are an admirable foil for each other. Robin's craving for a "new interest" is on—

Food Class Furnish Enjoyable Occasion for College Faculty.

One of the most enjoyable social functions of this College year was a high tea given in the sewing room of the home economics department, Thursday, May 20. The hostesses were Miss Anthony and the girls of the foods class; the guests were the faculty members and their wives.

After a short reception in the ladies' parlor where the faculty were met by Mrs. White and Grace Stevenson, all went to the sewing room. Here, Miss Anthony and the foods class girls were in the receiving line. The guests were then conducted to small tables artistically arranged about the room. Two couples were seated at each table. A most delightful menu was then served. The menu was as follows:

Fruit Cocktail	Spun glass
Chicken Salad	Mushroom Patties
	Water Cress
Radishes	Parker House Rolls
Cafe Parfait	Rolled Wafers
	Strawberry Surprise
	Cafe Noir
Water Crackers	Roquefort Cheese

The sewing room was very beautifully and artistically decorated so as to give an enchanting Japanese appearance. About the upper part of the wall, lattice work entwined with flowering vines was placed. Here and there among the vines Japanese umbrellas crossed each other. Lines of gayly colored oriental lanterns were suspended from the ceiling. The drop lights were softly shadowed by umbrellas and lantern.

In the center of the room was a large dining table, about which were grouped in a three quarter circle the smaller tables. Each table was covered with a hand stenciled cloth and centered with a candle, the shade of which was also hand work. The napkins bore the same design as the luncheon cloths.

The members of the class served the menu from the buffet at the east of the room; during serving, Virola music was played.

The foods class girls are: Laura Curfman, Dorothy Dale, Mary Woolbridge, Elizabeth Leet, Jessie Murphy, Grace Stevenson, ViJune Colden, Mrs. White, Velma Appleby and Viola Barber.

John Lawton, one of our students, was quite pleasantly surprised Sunday, May 16, when the boarders at the Egley home presented him with a birthday gift.

Read Carefully to Learn—Important Directions for Beginning Work.

The summer session of S. T. C., opens today with the task of enrolling. In order that this task may be less difficult the following information is given:

After paying the incidental fee of ten dollars to the treasurer at the Real Estate Bank which is on the corner north and east of the court house, get your receipt and go out to the College. In the general office, second floor, room number 201 get daily program and enrollment cards then go to your class adviser. If you wish to enter the first or second year high school work consult Mr. Cook or Mr. Miller, third floor, room number 320.

If you are entering the third or fourth year high school work, Mr. Hawkins or Mr. Swinehart, third floor room number 302, will assist you.

Freshmen College students should consult Miss Arnett or Mr. Foster, second floor, room 219.

Miss Brunner will help all sophomores. Her room is on the first floor number 130.

Miss Anthony, third floor, room 304 should be consulted by the juniors.

The seniors should see Miss Winn, third floor, room 303.

After the cards have been filled out get President Richardson's signature. The president's office is at the south end of the general office. Cards and enrollment fee receipt should then be taken to the registrar, Mr. Rickenbrode, second floor, room 203.

On the programs which are received in the general office, instructions are given concerning the off hours and their use. Assembly is held each week on a certain one of these hours. Every student should be present at all assembly meetings because it is here announcements are made and general instructions are given.

On the main floor, which is the second, there are bulletin boards, which should be watched carefully for information.

The library is also on this floor at the east end of the building. This room is for use, the librarians are glad to assist in all possible ways but they ask co-operation in the care and correct use of the room. This is the room which is intended as a study hall and not a visiting room. "Do unto others as you would be done by" and observe the Golden Rule of Silence.

The parlor for the women students is on the second floor, room 221. The Work on Staff Is Needed by English Students.

All teachers of high school English should be able to manage a school paper. This training can be secured by work on the Courier, whether as a regularly elected member of the staff or as a student in the class in journalism.

As the class in journalism meets at the off hours on Monday and Thursday, there can be no conflicts with other classes. For the summer term all of the positions on the staff, except editor-in-chief, alumni, and senior editor, are vacant. Societies and classes must hold elections this week.

Their work on the staff has helped three of our editors to secure positions with good salaries. All students, particularly, those specializing in English who are interested, should see Miss Winn, room 303, about work on the staff before completing their enrollment.

Here and There Among the Colleges

Here and There Among the Colleges In the State.

The Home Economics department of the Warrensburg S. T. C., is to have an open house demonstration, May 21.

John Simpson of Warrensburg S. T. C., was elected Track Captain for the 1920 season. The recent demonstrated ability of Simpson leads us to expect from him a future performance equal to the record of his brother "Bob."

Mr. Clusky of Park College was relegated to fourth place in the Interstate Oratorical Contests, held at Hastings, Nebr., May 7.

Littell of Wabash College, Indiana, won first honors. Malone of Muskingum College, Ohio, and Williams of Baker University, Kansas, received second and third place.

Tarkio College is looking forward to the following extensive building program:

1920-21, Heating plant.....	$25,000
1921-22, Gymnasium	$40,000
1922-23, Science Building.....	$1,000
1923-24, Women's Dormitory,	$100,000
1924-25, Library and Administration Building	$40,000

The College authorities have also negotiated for an additional 16 acres on the south of the present campus.

Out of State.

Yale, with a total of nine points won the first intercollegiate aerial field day held at Mineola, N. J., May 10. Williams was second with six points and Princeton and Columbia tied for third place with five points each.

The Stanford University football team began spring practice last week.

California University won first place in the annual Pacific Coast track meet May 15.

The track team of Iowa State University defeated the Iowa College team in their dual meet, May 15.

Mr. Cook Speaks for Consolidation.

Mr. Cook made a visit to Sampsel, Mo., Friday, May 14. Here he addressed the community meeting at which an election was held for the consolidation of five rural school districts with Sampsel. The election was held in the public school building at a mass meeting of the voters. Much interest in the meeting was manifested by the citizens.

Mr. Cook in his discussion pointed out that every voter had a right to his own free choice in the matter at issue, but that he who voted against the consolidation of schools was not only voting against his own interests but that of his neighbor and of the community in general. He conceded that the voter was honest in his expression but was mistaken. To convince the voter of this fact, Mr. Cook sought to show these facts: first, consolidation is cheaper for the same kind of schools; second, better trained teachers may be employed; third, better supervised training may be had; fourth, higher attendance is obtained; fifth, more boys and girls receive high school education; sixth, more pupils remain to the end; seventh, there are more social advantages; eighth, the school becomes a social center; and ninth, better courses of study may be added. Mr. Cook also emphasized the point that the student while pursuing his high school course, could be under the influence of the home.

Following the discussion, a ballot was taken and the proposition carried by a vote of thirty-four to twenty-one.

COLLEGE PARK SCHOOL.

Almost every pupil in the College Park School entered in the events at the annual track meet given by the school, May 19. There were a variety of events including thirty and sixty-yard dashes, relay races, walking race, three-legged race, potato race, ball-throwing, overhead pass-ball, goal shooting, nail and stake-driving, and discus-throwing.

The pupils of the demonstration school held their annual picnic at the College Park, May 21.

Miss Mildred Miller spent the holidays, May 22-25, at her home near Sumner.

Florence and Irene Cobb and Marie Petree, of Savannah, entered school May 26 for the summer term. Irene was here during the fall and winter terms of the past year, but left in order to fill a vacancy in the teaching force of the Savannah public schools. She has been re-employed for next year. Florence taught last year at Rosendale, but will teach near Savannah next year.

Mrs. Maysel Laughlin, who was in school here during the past year, left for her home near Guilford, May 22. Mrs. Laughlin had planned to remain here for the summer but eye-trouble prevented her staying.

Miss Miller spent Tuesday, May 25 in St. Joseph.

Mr. Foster Lectures to Men's Bible Class.

The subject of Mr. Foster's talk to the Men's Bible Class of the Christian Church, Sunday morning, May 16, was "The League of Nations." The address consisted chiefly of a review of the historical situation up to the present time, showing the necessity of some kind of league of nations. The latter part of the session was devoted to a general discussion of the question by the class.

Vera Hughes of Maryville and Ruth Jones of Burlington Junction, both former students, were guests at the College Wednesday afternoon, May 19.

LITERARY SOCIETY NOTES.

Philomathean.

The last program of the spring quarter given by the Philos, Thursday May 20, was:

Stunt Charles Wells
Readings—Elizabeth Robertson, Freda Shaffer and Jasper Adams.

A temporary chairman and secretary was elected for the first meeting of the summer session.

Eurekan.

A business meeting was held Thursday, May 20, as it was the last meeting of the quarter. Reports from the secretary and treasurer were given. The following officers for the ensuing quarter were elected:

President Alice Peery
Vice-President..... Lowell Livengood

Treasurer Bill Richards
Sergeant-at-arms Earl Bland

P. O. Cauffield, John Bartholomaeus and R. C. Donaldson were in Maryville for three days, May 13-15. They audited the books of both Mr. Rickenbrode, registrar, and Mr. Williams, treasurer, of the College. They reported that the books of both were in a most excellent condition.

Mr. John F. Downey, an emeritus professor of mathematics, Minnesota University, was a visitor of the College Tuesday, May 18. He made a short talk telling of his work in three Chinese Universities.

Mr. Downey is a brother of Mrs. Price of Maryville. His wife and President Richardson were high school students together.

From here Mr. Downey went to Hilesdale, Michigan, where he delivered the commencement address to the seniors of the same high school from which he, himself, was graduated fifty years ago.

Assembly Notes.

In assembly, Tuesday, May 18, Doctor Downey, an emeritus professor of Mathematics in the University of Minnesota, talked a few minutes about his experiences in China. Doctor Downey spent three years teaching in the Universities of Nanking and Peking.

President Richardson gave a short speech urging students to extend their education as far as possible before they start out to teach.

The rest of the program was given in the East gymnasium where Mr. Rice's Apparatus Class for men gave a clown show. Mr. Rice was the manager of the show and he and the other four clowns went thru a great many acrobatic stunts, almost always displaying skill, grace, and bravery.

Mrs. Mary Davis and Mr. Caleb Brogan were married May 19 at the home of Miss DeLuee.

Miss Claire Davis will make her home with Mr. and Mrs. Brogan in Maryville.

DEPARTMENT NOTES.

Education.

The Education 12 class made its final observation in the Demonstration School on Thursday, May 19. This observation was for the purpose of gathering data on the reasoning ability of children and it completed a series of observations made thru-out the year. The observations have been an attempt by the Education Department to make a definite relation between theory and practice.

The School Economy class closed its work by a series of ten minute speeches on the following subjects:

Measurements of Teachers, Teachers Salaries, Child Labor in Missouri, The Community, The School Nurse, The Smith-Tower Bill, The State Teachers Association, New Materials of Instruction. This work proved very interesting to the class.

The classes in education with the class in vitalized rural life, helped to tabulate the questionnaires which have been returned by the rural teachers of the Northwestern District. They completed their spring term. This questionnaire was sent to the rural schools, as the winter bulletin of the College, with the bulletin entitled A Square Deal for Boys and Girls. The results for these questionnaires will probably be published later.

Vitalized Agriculture.

Interesting plans are being made for the work in vitalized agriculture this summer. The College teachers who have had charge of this work during the year will continue their work, and besides these, Mr. P. G. Holden and his half dozen trained assistants will conduct the short course again this summer. This short course will begin July 12.

History.

The Economics class of the College taught by Mr. Foster held a debate Tuesday afternoon at the class hour on the question of single tax. The affirmative side was taken by Elizabeth Leet, Faye Herndon and Lillian Carpenter and the negative side by William DeVore and Ralph Yehle. The judges of this debate were Miss Helwig and Mr. Leeson of the College faculty. The affirmative won the debate.

The Sophomore class welcomes Miss Bessie Brewer to their midst. She has been teaching a rural school and has been re-employed for the coming year at $110.00 per month. She will be with us during the summer quarter.

Mr. Swinehart was pleasantly surprised Monday evening, May 17 when he was called to the telephone by Mr. C. V. Rothrock of Kansas City who is a traveling man. Mr. Rothrock was formerly a star foot ball player on Mr. Swinehart's team in Washington Court House, Ohio.

Freda Shaffer has been offered a position as teacher in one of the Kansas City Schools. Miss Shaffer has accepted the offer.

An Appeal for Our College.

The redecorating of our building is now completed. S. T. C., is shining and clean in her new coat of paint. As students of the College, we have determined that it is our duty to prevent the building from being marked and marred as it has been in past years. Each one has taken for his motto "No pencil marks, no finger prints on any of the freshly painted walls anywhere in the building."

Now we want our new friends who come this summer to feel the same spirit of responsibility and pride. We want the new students to help us protect our school, its rights and its property.

Won't each new student join all the old students in this resolution to keep our college, yours and mine, as beautiful as we find it on the day of our entrance.

The Staff Changes.

The Courier Staff will undergo a number of changes at the beginning of the summer session of school. Some have left school, others are still in school but will not resume their work on the paper.

Miss Winn, the instructor, and Miss Ummel, the Editor-in-chief, will continue their work during the summer. Among the others who will still be on the staff are Lillian Carpenter and Minnie Turner.

Others who will be in school but who will not be on the staff are Ethel Sloan, Blanche Alexander, Helen Dean Blanche Landfather, and Wave Hulet.

Lucile Wright and Mabel Cook will spend their vacation at their homes in Maryville; Sallie Wilson will be at her home in Winthrop, Arkansas; Dean Goslee will be at home near Skidmore, Mo.; Leo Nicholls will farm near New Hampton; Clifford Hull will work on the Maryville Tribune; and Kenneth Carter will be in Chattanooga work for the Western Welfare Company, hence the Courier staff will be made up for the most part of new students this summer.

tirely gratified and he finds that to keep up with the rising generation forty-three must move fast. Dickie Cottrell and Bertha Sims add to the hilarity of the tea-party, while Lady Cottrell contributes to the background of British wit and humor.

men also have a parlor on the second floor, room 209. These are the rooms where students may visit with one another and to which they may take their friends.

Room 215 is the rest room for men of the faculty. The room next to the kitchenette on the second floor is the room for the faculty women. New faculty members will easily find these rooms.

Found.

This was found on Mr. Swinehart's desk. He hopes it is not personal.

He is a large fat man with a bald head and twinkling blue eyes; these are always characteristic of a man of his temperament. A man who is jolly, always ready to see the funny side of everything, and never caring about his looks. One whose bald head doesn't bother him in the least but is really a convenience because his time is so precious that he would never have time to comb his hair if he had any. He is a great athlete, especially in foot ball and never tired of telling the foot ball experience he had when he was young. He is not old now, however, and will never seem old to those who know him. It seems to be that his main joy is in getting some one else embarrassed then laugh at them. He is forever "bawling someone out," but people who really know him understand that it is done mostly in a joke. He has worked his way thru school and knows how to appreciate his education. He has a strong personality; one that makes itself felt by all who know him.

Eurekans Have Picnic.

The Eurekans decided to have their long-planned picnic rain or shine Tuesday, May 18. At the close of school the crowd met and started on their outing. They went out to the Park, west of the school and spent an enjoyable time in having water fights and doing all the other things included in a picnic.

The menu consisted of weiners, buns pickles, and marshmallows. It is rumored that Bill ate a FEW pickles.

Mrs. Moore of Clarksdale was a guest of her daughter Elizabeth, Sunday, May 16.

Pres. Richardson Writes of Rural School Problems for Magazine.

The most important problem in the educational world today is the rural school. The opportunities for service in this field are without limit; the attractions of rural school work are very great to the well trained teacher. Not only does the teacher receive a salary that is proportionally larger than that in other fields of work but he can also see about him the results of his labor in the newly awakened and revitalized country life.

The Northwest Missouri State Teachers College has for some time led all schools of the United States in the special training of teachers for the rural field of labor. This summer a short course in vitalized rural life will be offered during the week beginning July 12. The work centers around the fourth year topics—The Soil, The Home and The Community. All students who expect to teach in the rural schools next year should take this short course.

The College is indebted to Mr. P. G. Holden of Chicago for suggesting the application of the idea of rotation in current use in the field of agriculture to the immediate problem of teaching agriculture in the rural school. Incidentally, the effect of this is now modifying and in the future will to a greater degree very materially modify the entire activity and atmosphere of the rural schools of Northwest Missouri. Because this is true and because the vitalized rural life work is so comprehensive and the scope of subject matter so broad the College shall be able to take care of the desired credits of that course even tho needed in other fields.

Many movements have and are assisting in the developing of the rural school, among these is the tendency toward consolidation. The greater or less advancement of scholarship and professional training to make the maximum transformation of interest and activity in the class room, and to make the most intimate contact with the home and farm life of the rural boy and girl to the end that they will grow up with a more truly appreciative attitude toward the life of the community in which they live and toward the dignity and importance of farm activity and the possibilities of the home circle in the open country."

These quotations show what vitalized rural life training mean.

"Vitalized Agriculture has brot the home and the community into the school. Men and women are planning and thinking with the children."

"It teaches the child real life and living in a way that is workable and livable."

"Vitalized Agriculture encourages the stronger and better teacher to seek positions in rural schools."

President Richardson has prepared on this subject an article, "A New Day In The Rural School" which will be published in the first number of "The School and Community," a magazine published by the State Teachers Association. This magazine takes the place of the bulletin which the Association has been editing.

Men Should Enroll in Physical Education.

Every man in the College should enroll in a class in physical education this summer. There will be no competitive athletics but each student will develop his own physical efficiency.

Insufficient exercise of the right kind is one of the dangers of student life, especially in the summer. Study will be made easier if the body is being brought under control at the same time that the mind is being trained.

Try a class in physical education and awake to the possibilities of a strong mind in a strong body.

Coach Rice will teach tennis to those wishing to learn the game.

S. T. C. Enters State Meet.

Maryville State Teachers College had two men entered in the inter-college track and field meet which was held at Cameron, May 20 and 21.

Coach Rice accompanied Ralph Yehle and C. T. Richards to Cameron. Yehle was entered in the high jump, hurdles and running broad jump. Richards entered the shot put, discus, half mile, mile and two mile races.

The results of the meet will be given in the next issue as we went to press before the scores were received.

Yehle has also been entered in the Missouri valley conference championship meet which will be held at Ames, May 29. Yehle has been jumping six feet in practice; he should therefore make a good showing. Missouri, Nebraska and Kansas Universities and in fact all the important universities and colleges of the valley have been invited, therefore it is an honor for the college and for the athlete to contest in this meet.

Bulletin: Yehle breaks record in high jump with jump of 5 feet, 10 inches.

Mr. Leeson Visits Bigelow.

Mr. Leeson visited schools at Bigelow, Friday, May 14. At this time the graduating exercises of the rural consolidated school was held. Mr. Leeson gave the graduating address. His subject was "Making a Citizen."

The track meet and literary contests were also held at this time. Mr. Leeson acted as judge for the oratorical contest.

The day of the track meet the Red Cross society served a very substantial and appetizing dinner to about five hundred people, free of charge.

High School Classes Have Picnic.

The high school Freshmen, Sophomore, and Senior classes of S. T. C., enjoyed a weiner roast on the college campus Wednesday, May 19. A picnic lunch consisting of weiners, buns, pickles, marshmallows, and fruit was served at six o'clock. Mrs. Perrin, Mr. and Mrs. Cook and Mr. Hawkins were guests of the classes.

Hopkins.

A clipping from the Tarkio College Phoenix concerning the Tennis Tournament at the Tri-State Meet.

"Hopkins, represented by Belout and Brown were defeated by the Clarinda Team. It must be said to the credit of Hopkins that they showed excellent form and had a clever way of returning the ball so that it was inconveniently out of reach."

Sheridan.

The commencement exercises of the Sheridan High School were held May 21. Mr. Swinehart of the College faculty delivered the address. Mr. Swinehart delivered the class address last year also.

Forest City.

The graduating exercises of the Forest City High School were held Friday, May 13. There were seven graduates. The exercises were held in the City Hall. Four of the class are intending to come to the college. At Forest City there are several former students, Mr. Breit, Supt. Elizabeth Sobbing, Fred Conner, Elizabeth Bulcher and Miss Dunn.

Filmore.

Dr. Keller delivered the class address at Filmore, May 13. There were fifteen graduates in the class. The exercises were held in an opera house. The subject used by Dr. Keller was "The Purpose in Life." The Class motto was "Tonight We Launch Our Boat, Where Shall We Enter." Dr. Keller shaped his address so as to fit their motto and brot out this idea, fit yourself that you may guide your boat and anchor where you wish. Dr. Keller was accompanied to Filmore by A. M. Darnell a student at the college who was superintendent at Filmore two years ago.

Mr. Miller of the College faculty delivered the address two years ago and Dr. S. E. Davis, now president of Montana State Normal school and last year an instructor of the College, delivered the address last year.

Commencement week at the Savannah High School was May 16-21. The baccalaureate sermon was preached Sunday evening, May 16. The commencement address was delivered Thursday evening by Dr. E. E. Violette, of Kansas City.

The eleventh annual alumni banquet was held Friday evening, May 21. This was attended by Minnie Gee, Myrtle Messick, Zoe McKee, and Marjorie Hartman from the college. The opening event of the banquet program was the unveiling of the Waldo Kastendiek memorial. Waldo was the only Savannah High School alumni who died in the service during the recent war.

Savannah has thirty-three high school graduates this year. Some of these will begin teaching next year. Several prospective teachers are planning to attend school here at the College.

Liberty.

Thursday evening, May 13, Miss Dow attended the commencement exercises of the Liberty High School. A class of twenty-eight was graduated, one of them being Ernestine Dow, who recently gave a recital in our College assembly. The address was delivered by Dr. Harry P. Rogers of Kansas City and the exercises were pronounced the best ever given by the Liberty high school.

The senior play, "Cupid at Vassar" given the preceding Tuesday night was repeated Friday evening and they played again to a crowded House. The play was a clever farce on college life and it was enlivened by a chorus of college girls led by Ernestine Dow, which gave quite a college atmosphere to the whole. About $380.00 was cleared.

Carrying out the instructions of a little card posted on the walls of the College Park lunch room — everyone washed his cup and spoon in good fellowship.

From the lunch room the class went to the chemistry laboratory where another dish washing and housecleaning time followed.

The fifth and sixth grade reading classes of College Park School dramatized the May Day scene of Robin Hood Friday morning, May 21. The pine trees made a very appropriate setting for the playlet. The children had studied Robin Hood in their reading classes under Miss Brunner, and they themselves had worked out the dramatization. Their guests Friday morning were their teachers, Miss Brunner and Miss Turner.

Dean G. H. Colbert went to McFall May 19 to talk on consolidation and to help organize a plan for consolidation. Besides the McFall district, there are four other districts in Gentry county which are considering very seriously the plan of consolidation.

Y. W. NOTES.

The last Y. W. meeting of the Spring term was held Wednesday morning, May 19. An enjoyable program was given by Miss Brunner, Miss Helwig and Miss Dow.

Miss Brunner gave a talk on her "ideal girl." First, as to dress, a girl should be neat and use simplicity and appropriateness of dress.

Second, as to manner, a girl should always be courteous and use self control. She should be amiable and show good spirit, her character must be free from gossip.

Miss Helwig also gave a talk on her ideal girl. She said that her ideal girl developed four sides of her life, the physical, the moral, the intellectual and the spiritual.

The moral life has to do with the relationships to one's friends, to one's acquaintances, to strangers and to one's self, while our spiritual life has to do with our relationship to God.

How we develop each depends on our education, not intellectually but on the education that includes everything that makes an educated person.

The ideal girl would not get so busy in her intellectual, moral or physical pursuits that she would forget her influence on the lives around her.

Miss Dow's reading "Pauline Pavlovna" by Thomas Bailey Aldrich, was enjoyed very much by the girls.

Etta Sutterlin has been given a position for next year, as grade teacher at Graham.

Miss Zenor, formerly a music instructor at S. T. C., is spending a month in the Ozark Mountains in Arkansas. She is enjoying the fishing and various other good times.

Miss Etha Henderson, a former student returned to her home in Maryville, Thursday, May 20. She has been teaching at Union Star, Mo.

LaVora Hudson, who is attending College this year, was employed Saturday, as teacher of English in the high school at Newport, Mo.

THE STROLLER.

Howdy! Here's The Stroller again with you. Same old Stroller, eh, Mabel? He didn't walk from any western town and he still refuses to be either Miss Winn or Miss Ummel.

Ah, well, this is digressing! Welcome, summer students. The Stroller is truly glad to have you with us. If you have brought a new joke with you see him at once. His poor old brain is slightly cracked from the tremendous efforts of keeping up with this paper and with the College in general. Why, things move so rapidly around here, that the Stroller has to run as fast as he can to keep standing still.

The Stroller has a joke on himself. You remember that he said in a previous issue that he did not have to mind Miss Winn. Well, he thought he would not have to help get out a paper this week, but have a little time to stroll around and get acquainted. But, do you know, when Miss Winn told the Stroller to prepare copy for an issue this week, he just stepped like the rest of them do somehow when she requests—never commands (Maybe that's why). He guesses he isn't so independent after all.

If you new ones see a fellow acting as president of anything anywhere, that's most likely he Jap Adams. You never saw a mortal to whom presidencies seem to cling as they do to Jap. Well, he's a brave man—don't try to put anything over on him—If you don't believe me, ask a Philo—they know why he's a brave man.

Mr. Rice met Mr. Kutschinski on the street. Mr. K. had evidently just shaved or been shaved. He was holding his hand at any rate to his chin. "Good morning, Mr. Koo-chin-ski," said Mr. R. "Cut-chin-ski this morning," was the reply.

There is nothing like style. Mrs. Perrin has that notion, now. She received a letter from a student inquiring for a room at Parisian Hall.

Don't let the faculty make you believe they are this haughty all the time. They think they are some society folks now because they have just been to a "High Tea," but you ought to have heard them a week ago. "What do you wear at a function like that?" "What do you say?" etc. They enjoyed it so much when they were afraid they wouldn't, they're real pleased with themselves. Human, aren't they? I'll say they are.

If Mr. Foster acts queerly, he just had too many strawberries at the May party, and their effect hasn't worn off yet. He'll get over it. Don't be too anxious because when he does get settled down, he surely goes some.

The Stroller is going to the Alumni Banquet and make a speech. He hasn't decided quite on the topic, but it will be impromptu, extremely formal, and something about rain and summer school.

Will someone in the audience kindly summon a physician. Thank you Jessie B. and Mildred S. want to know if walking will reduce. They walked five miles before breakfast the other morning which so increased their appetite, they have been gaining ever since.

Caution to new students: Be sure you walk out to the College to enroll before you pay your incidental fee. The walk back to town is so entrancing and bracing to the nerves. Convince your class adviser that you are exceptional and should not be held to the requirements. It affords an interesting argument, but one is never uncertain of the decision. Make out your course cards, then lose them. Some other student may come along and find them and thereby he saved the trouble of going thru your agony. Make a resolution to cut every assembly. That's the way to get a stand-in with Prexy. Above all, take an early lease on the "Spooners' Bench."

Mr. Foster Judges College Debate.

Mr. Foster was called to Kirksville Friday night, May 14 to help judge a debate between Kirksville and Cape Girardeau. This one was part of a triangular debate between Kirksville, Cape Girardeau and Springfield. The question for debate was: Resolved, that immigration to the U. S. be prohibited for ten years." Kirksville debated from the affirmative viewpoint and Cape Girardeau the negative. The affirmative won.

Mr. Foster reports that this was a very interesting debate and the contestants were quite evenly matched. The decision of the judges was not unanimous. The other two judges were Miss Hogrief of the English Department, Missouri Wesleyan College, Cameron, and Mr. Ramsey of the English Department, Missouri University.

Mr. Foster, while in Kirksville, Friday, May 14, had the pleasure of seeing and talking with Mr. W. W. Burgess who was formerly a member of the faculty of S. T. C. He now has a permanent position as head of the Agricultural Department at Kirksville Teachers College.

Seniors Enjoy Supper.

The senior class of the college, and their sponsor had a picnic supper at the college May 19. The menu consisted of ham and eggs, salad, buns and coffee.

The guests of the seniors were Mrs. A. M. Darnall, Miss Degan, Miss Dow and Mr. Metzler. After the supper some business was transacted by the class. Much fun was created by some of the speeches, especially those of Viola Barber and Laura Curfman.

The design for the official college degree pin has been received by President Richardson and an order has been sent in by the class for the pin.

Miss Anthony and Miss DeLuee had dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Horace Leet and their daughter, Elizabeth, Sunday, May 16.

May Morning Breakfast Much Enjoyed.

The Annual May Morning Breakfast given by the Y. W. C. A., of the College was held Saturday morning, May 15 in the Library. The decorations were very attractive. Blue and white, the Y. W. colors, and spring flowers were used in decorating. The tables were placed in a triangular shape.

Breakfast was served at 8:30, after which a very interesting program was given.

The "address of welcome" was made by President Richardson: "The Aim of the Y. W. C. A. in This School" by Miss Katherine Helwig; "Backward Glance in the Y. W. C. A." by Frances Holliday; "The Year's Work" by Grace Stevenson; "Statistical Report" Ethel Sloan; "Our Bible Class" Helen Tebow; "Outlines and Aims of the Y. W. C. A." by Olive DeLuee; "Aims of Devotional Meetings" Mrs. L. E. White; "Work of the Advisory Board" by Mrs. R. S. Braniger; "Outside Impression of Y. W. C. A." by Rev. R. C. Holliday; "The Faculty's Impression of the Y. W. C. A." Miss Beulah Brunner; "The Forward Glance of Y. W. C. A." by Jessie Murphy.

Two musical numbers were given; a piano solo by Elio Coler and a violin solo, by Mr. C. D. Kutschinski.

The Benediction was said by Rev. W. C. Ferguson.

The breakfast and program were enjoyed by about one hundred students, faculty members and town people.

Mr. Miller Delivers Four Addresses.

Mr. Miller delivered the Commencement address at Pattonsburg where there are twelve seniors. His subject was "Measure of a Man." He talked to a large audience.

While in Pattonsburg, he talked with a number of the faculty members who are former students of the College. These are: Joe Ferguson, Superintendent at Pattonsburg; Jessie Ewing; Judson Padgett; Mary Walford; Pearl and Elsie Dilley.

The church was very elaborately decorated for the Commencement exercises. The class motto was very original and defferent and was cleverly carried out through the decorations. The motto was "Our Motto is in Cans." Three cans were decorated and suspended from the ceiling. On one can was the capital letter I, for I can, the second, the capital letter "U" for you can and on the other was We for we can. Mr. Miller said he had a very nice time while there.

Mr. Miller also delivered a commencement address at New Hampton where E. R. Adams, an alumnus of the College, is superintendent.

At Gentry, he had a very large audience. They are to have an election for consolidation at Gentry soon. During his address, Mr. Miller urged that they should vote consolidation.

At Westboro his talk was "Measure of a Man." There he also talked to a very large audience.

Gift of Class of 1919 Ordered.

The graduating class of 1919 voted last year to buy a plaster cast of The Scout by Cyrus E. Dalin but there was no firm in America at that time from whom the statue could be obtained. Meanwhile the class had been corresponding with Mr. Dalin and in the spring found that the cast could be obtained from Caproni.

The order has been placed and the bill of lading has been received. Owing to strike conditions, the cast could not be shipped by rail and is coming by waterways from Boston, hence altho the class hopes the statue will be here by commencement there is great uncertainty as to its arrival.

A suitable pedestal has been purchased and will be ready when the cast gets here.

The gift will be placed in the library.
